Tree and scrub felling

October '23 - February '24

This autumn/winter 2023/4, forestry contractors Coombes are starting a programme of tree and scrub felling, across selected areas of Puttenham Common. Approximately 9 hectares of predominantly Silver Birch and Scots Pine will be felled. These works will take place in phases, the first phase in October targets the wetter southern end of Puttenham Common, and the second phase will take place on the northern drier areas, in December '23/January 24. This felling is integral to our 100 year habitat restoration project on Puttenham Common.
